

Editor's Note

The editors are pleased to announce the establishment of the Confraternitas web site. Its address is:

<http://citd.scar.utoronto.ca/CRRS/Confraternitas/index.htm>
(be sure to follow the capitalization exactly).

The site contains the Tables of Contents of past and current issues, subscription information, news about conference sessions sponsored by the Society for Confraternity Studies, and a complete alphabetical listing of the Confraternities Collection at the Centre for Reformation and Renaissance Studies in Toronto, which contains a considerable number of works on all aspects of confraternities. This makes the site a very useful resource for anyone interested in confraternity studies, and all subscribers and potential subscribers are encouraged to investigate.
